How the program works

The Advisory Board Council acts as a matchmaker between an established business and area professionals who volunteer their expertise as members of an advisory board.

Applications are available online. After an application is received, an interview will be scheduled.
- 2 Meet your advisors.
You will meet with each board member individually before your first board meeting. This helps build familiarity and eliminate conflicts.
- 3 Work with your board.
For one year, you and your board will work on critical issues facing your business. Meetings are held every 1-2 months with individual advisor contact between meetings.
